Up two mills, Aurora tax rate Struck at 50

A tax rate of 50 mills for Aurora was struck by town council Monday night. The rate of 50 mills is an increase of two mills over the rate for 1949. The expenditures set in this year's budget total $102,753.66. The increase was caused mainly by plans for building new schools. The public school mill rate is 11.7 while the high school mill rate was set at 4.2.

A delegation representing the fire department asked council for some action on their request for new equipment. Fire Chief Harry Jones said that the present equipment which records the location of a fire in the pump house and of little value to the firemen.

One councillor suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate. Assistant Chief Stewart Patrick told the council that prompt action was needed and went on to say that it would be too late to move the recording equipment if someone were burned to death. He went on to suggest that the chairman of the fire and water committee, A. A. Cook, act on all these matters. The fire department has also asked for a new truck, equipment for drying hose and a new siren.

The property committee submitted a report concerning the library which indicated that an artificial ceiling would be installed along with new lighting but it was evident that no interior decorating would be done for some time.

HAS TOP ESSAY IN PROVINCIAL LEGION CONTEST

Allen Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Jackson, Newmarket, has won the first prize in his class in the Legion provincial essay contest on citizenship. He is a student at Newmarket high school in grade 12. Having won the local competition on the topic "My Idea of Canadian Citizenship", which was sponsored by the Newmarket branch, his essay was sent on to provincial command.

Allen's essay was competing with over 500 others from all parts of Ontario. A letter from provincial command to principal J. W. Lockhart says the essay "was far superior to any other essay submitted and, in fact, no other essay was even a close second."

The first prize is a sponsored trip to Ottawa by the Legion. Allen will be leaving soon by plane for the Ottawa trip where he will be guest of the Canadian Legion, Dominion Command, and a member of parliament. Cecil Jarvis, president of the Newmarket branch, offered his congratulations on Allen being chosen to represent Newmarket.

The final judging of the contest was under the direction of Dr. W. J. Dunlop of the University of Toronto.

New prizes, ribbons in Aurora Horse Show

Four new prizes and ribbons will be donated to the Aurora Horse Show this year by the Canadian Pony Society. The prizes will go to the winner of the new class for the 1950 show, Child's Harness Ponies.

The pony class is open for the first time this year as a result of the popular pony club at the Toronto and North York Hunt club.

An executive meeting of the directors of the show was held Saturday night. Plans are in full progress to hold the show as scheduled on June 10. Considerable time was spent at the meeting concerning the appointment of judges. According to secretary A. E. L. Maughan, this year's show will probably be the biggest yet as prizes are increased and because the classes are more varied than ever before.

FORM ARCHERY CLUB

An organizational meeting of the Newmarket Archery Club will be held in the council chambers over the firehall on Thursday, April 13, at 8 p.m. The club membership is open to all persons interested in shooting with the bow and arrow. It is planned to give free instruction in indoor and outdoor archery to club members.

Lions and Optimists join to present carnival April 12

The Newmarket Optimist and Lions Clubs are joining forces to present a carnival in the Memorial Arena next Wednesday, April 12, starting at 7.30 p.m. The clubs have promised "an unusual program of entertainment providing young and old with exhibition hockey, figure skating specialties, costume events and culminating in public skating to the music of the Newmarket Citizens' Band."

A large number of contestants are expected to compete for more than 30 valuable prizes available to adults and children for "the best historic, comic, mimic, futuristic and original costumes." An additional prize will also be awarded to the best skating couple in costume and during the course of the evening a Carnival Queen will be chosen.

The Lions and Optimist Clubs are both service clubs which do public spirited work throughout the year. Among the Lions Club's aids to the community are a Christmas Basket Fund, medical aid to children, especially in connection with eyesight. The Optimist Club has sponsored youth hockey during the first winter of its operation and has plans to do further work along the line of youth leadership.

"One and all are invited to be on hand to witness the best in hockey that the Squirts and Bantam All Stars can provide," says a spokesman for the two clubs. "For your added enjoyment there will also be the long awaited challenge game between the Lions and Optimists. See the various events on the Sports page."

Toronto's plans Will double costs Says county report

If part of York county amalgamated with Toronto, the remaining municipalities in the north would find a 100 percent increase in costs of county services. The mill rate in Newmarket to earn the 1950 county levy is 4.47. The estimated mill rate after Toronto's proposed annexation took place would be 8.94, a 100 percent increase. Newmarket's levy would be $35,644 instead of the 1950 levy of $17,825.

These facts are revealed in the county of York's auditor's special report on the effect of Toronto's application to the Ontario municipal board for annexation.

The report was made by a fact finding committee appointed by the warden of the county in January to examine the position of the remaining municipalities of the county in the event of annexation by Toronto of the 12 suburban municipalities. At the Newmarket council meeting on Monday night it was presented by deputy-revee J. L. Spillette who represents northern municipalities on the Toronto area committee which was set up by Premier Frost to examine annexation problems.

Besides increasing the cost of services to a new county taking in the 14 northern municipalities and a portion of Etobicoke and Scarborough, Toronto's proposal would result in 85 percent of the population and property assessment value being removed from the county. The 85 percent is concentrated in the suburban area adjacent to Toronto which would be taken in by the city.

DEMAND CODE ENFORCEMENT FOR BUILDING

A 30-name petition was presented to Newmarket council Monday night to enforce building and sanitation laws. Three property owners representing ratepayers in the former army camp subdivision presented the petition. The petition asked council to act on the building and sanitation conditions in parts of the subdivision. The existing laws lack enforcement, said a spokesman.

"The building inspector hardly visits the place. It seems to me that people can build in the area first and then ask for a building permit after their place is finished," said one ratepayer. "People can build any kind of house and they are not stopped from living in trailers which have no plumbing facilities."

"These conditions in the area drop the value of our property. We have spent a lot of money and time on our homes and properties in the camp subdivision and we don't think it is fair if others don't have to abide by a building code," said a ratepayer.

Councillor Tom Birrell said, "I remember before that a delegation of 20 came up before council about a building code and nothing was ever done about it. I think it is about time we did something. If it does not affect the appearance of buildings, we need the provisions of the code revised."

Councillor Charles VanZant said that the new building code for the town was near completion. Mayor Vale promised some action in the subdivision.

Hydro seeks drill hall For conversion in Aug.

The Ontario hydro commission is seeking to rent the drill hall in the Newmarket fair grounds for cycle conversion purposes. Two representatives of the commission asked council Monday night to rent part of the building and grounds for three months during the latter part of the summer starting in August.

The building would be used as storage headquarters for domestic refrigeration units. During conversion of electric power from 25 cycles to 60 cycles the hydro commission would have to supply refrigeration units to domestic users while their own units were being converted.

A feature of this year's production is the banjo accompaniment supplied by Alex Georgas and Cec Gibson.

The proceeds of the show will be used for Lions club welfare work.

Hold Aurora egg shower For Orange Home

The Aurora egg shower for the Loyal True Blue and Orange home is being held again this year. It is hoped that close to 200 dozen eggs will be received to aid the orphanage at Elgin Mills.

The shower was first held 25 years ago and was organized by the late Major W. H. Taylor, Aurora, and since his death the plan has been carried out annually by his relatives and friends. Besides the eggs, many children will take books and toys to the school and they too will be turned over to the children in the home.

Eggs or donations may be left at Mrs. R. L. Hodgkinson's home on Wells St. or at Rank's Jewellery Store on Yonge St.

Municipal board Denies cost plus Want tender bid

Building alterations to the town hall will not be carried out on a cost plus ten percent arrangement. Tentative approval has been given to the Newmarket council by the Ontario municipal board on a $65,000 debenture by-law but the board stipulated that the town must acquire a firm bid on the work to be done to modernize the hall into a municipal building.

The municipal board's stipulation means that the town council must choose a contract tender. A resolution had previously passed through council to hire J. W. Bowser, Aurora contractor, on a cost plus ten percent basis. The motion subsequently drew considerable objection from two members of council and contractors in Newmarket.

The chief arguments held that the cost plus basis could not keep the costs under $65,000. Contractors wanted a chance to bid on a call for tenders from the town council.

The municipal board's tentative decision was made after a meeting held by representatives of the board on Tuesday morning in the council chambers. The purpose of the meeting was to hear any objections from ratepayers against the debenture by-law. Since there were no objections from the ratepayers, the board representatives said that they would dispense with a vote but that the town must acquire a firm bid.

It had been expected that a number of ratepayers would be at the meeting to present objections against the by-law. The meeting was held open for an hour but only one ratepayer appeared in the last ten minutes and he had no objections. A vote of the ratepayers was dispensed with under section 70 of the municipal act.

"There is some controversy about the location of the fire and police headquarters," said councillor Tom Birrell. "We want it as a south wing on the town hall. Others want it in a separate building. I assume we will have to make application for that expenditure to the municipal board later," he said.

"I think the additional building will be a matter for the public to decide," said the town solicitor, K. M. R. Stiver.

"If we find that the firm price goes up over $65,000 what can we do then?" asked Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette.

"It's up to the council to seek another firm bid," said the representative. "That is not our job but the job of the council, an elected body."

Optimists discuss A local Y.M.C.A. With national sec.

Lavern M. Herbert, secretary of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A., spoke to the Newmarket Optimist club Tuesday night. Mr. Herbert answered several questions put forth by Optimists relating to the possible establishment of a Y.M.C.A. in Newmarket.

Mr. Herbert said that the costs of establishing a Y.M.C.A. here could be anywhere from $5,000 to $60,000 depending on whether the Y would have only an office and staff or a large headquarters type of building. Most of the recently established Y.M.C.A. branches have a central building and use other gymnasiums and swimming pools in the community, he said.

"Community centres which are now popular across the country are all right providing you know how you are going to run them and most important, that you have leadership," he said. "Many of these community centres are now popular across the country are all right providing you know how you are going to run them and most important, that you have leadership." The Y.M.C.A. offers that leadership, he said.

"We have heard people say that we should let the government take care of recreation. I think there is a place for the private agency. I think we as citizens must carry on the activities and not the government, no matter what level it is," said Mr. Herbert.

"It has been found that the Y.M.C.A. can work side by side with public recreation. You could start a High Y club here, an organized Y.M.C.A. in the high school if you wished."

"If there is a need for a Y.M.C.A., if there is the initiative of a certain group to start one and if there is sufficient community enthusiasm, there would be no difficulty in starting one. It would be difficult to establish gymnasium and swimming pool but your program could later justify the establishment of such a building providing the demand were created," said Mr. Herbert.

Red Cross campaign at $2,206 Long way from objective

The Red Cross campaign fund total has reached $2,206 today, according to campaign headquarters. Returns are still coming but officials are quick to point out that the total is still a long way from the objective of $4,000 for Newmarket and district.

Typical of the co-operation that the Red Cross canvassers have been receiving is the project undertaken by the management of the Strand Theatre. By means of a nightly collection in the theatre, they were able to raise $168.77. The collection was suggested by Mr. Young, the theatre manager, and gratefully received by the Red Cross campaign committee.

Street employees Request raise, Aurora Council refuses

A request for a salary increase made by the town laborers of Aurora was turned down at the council meeting Monday night. It is believed that the request for a raise was made because the men felt dissatisfied after the town hired a water works foreman. The foreman for water works was hired a few weeks ago at a higher salary than the regular laborers were earning.

When the petition was read by Mayor Bell, deputy-revee R. H. Corner said that the men already were getting good wages, including the cost of living bonus. The salaries including the cost of living bonus for the workmen are $32.12 and $38.72 for the more senior employees.

Like most laborers, the town employees are paid on an hourly basis but are guaranteed full time. The men are kept on the payroll all year around.

Councillor Don Glass said that the men are of more value to the town the longer they work and that he could understand their request for more money. An increase of two cents an hour was suggested but James Murray said that such a small raise would only be a slap in the face.

It appeared that the increase would be granted but when the recorded vote was tabulated it showed only Councillors Corbett,

Council proposes sale Of hall to Legion

The sale of the Legion hall by the town to the Newmarket branch of the Legion was proposed at council meeting Monday. A motion was presented to council by J. O. Dales and Tom Birrell to sell the property for $750, to be paid over a ten-year period. Provisions that the property be resold to the town if the branch were to disband in the future and that the property should not be subdivided were included in the motion.

The Legion branch has indicated to council that it intends to make improvements to the building in the future.

Glass and Jones in favor of the increase while the remainder of the council opposing it.

Stuart Scott wins ice trophies

There's nothing, absolutely nothing to quite match the spills and thrills, joys and heartbreaks of a Tom Kirk Night. With proud poppas and mommas providing the background as they pat their Jacks and Jills on the back "well done" or "better luck next year", another eventful Tom Kirk Night was staged at the arena Tuesday.

Probably the biggest and best yet in the long string of such events, bigger as there were more contestants, and better because already the benefits of artificial ice are to be seen in the skating rinks. The arena was three parts filled and the din was terrific as everything went along with clock-work precision thanks to the grand work of the school teachers, members of the school boards and several other interested gentlemen of the town.

The night was a triumph for the Stuart Scott school. Its skaters captured number one billing walking off with all three trophies; first was for scoring the greatest number of points over the evening and for its victories in both the boys' and girls' relay races. For the former it collected the Walter Eves Trophy and for the latter the Alf Hart Trophy.

The evening opened as is the usual case with the pee-vee school league championship game. That gave an inkling of what was to come ending in a two all draw despite ten minutes of overtime. Tell you elsewhere about that.

Results were as follows: Boys under seven years: Frank McGuire, Peter Goldsmith, Kenneth Needer, Keith Burling; girls under seven years: Sully Brice, Donna Hands, Janet Macnab, Linda Koshel.

Boys seven years: Douglas Sheridan, Jim Brennan, Bryan Hopper, Paul Brammer; girls seven years: Peggy Tucker, Joanne Seney, Carol Anne Gairdner, Dianne Hughes.

Boys eight years: Barton Sedore, Larry Pipher, Peter Vale, Brent Macnab; girls eight years: Barbara Rhodes, Pauline West, Marilyn Perks, Carol Watson.

Boys nine years: Paul Blair, Murray Calahan, Eddie Thornton, David Townsley; girls nine years: Colleen Cain, Linda Purcell, Mary McGuire, Frances Davis.

Boys ten years: Lorne Babcock, Donald Bone, Lawrence Curtis, John Gable; girls ten years: Juanita Smith, Mary Lou VanZant, Elizabeth Giovannelli, Donna McKnight.

Boys 11 years: Jack Cain, Bill Cain, Kinsey Dillane, Jack Sticklend; girls 11 years: Sandra Watt, Vonda Martin, Marcia Sinclair, Loretta Forhan.

Boys 12 years: Charles McGuire, Bill Forhan, Harry Gilles, David Purcell; girls 12 years: Maureen West, Rosina Wadsworth, Mavis Keffler, Margaret Ann Crowder.

Boys 13 years: Delwyn Creed, John Graham, Murray Young, Raymond Gurr; girls 13 years: Arlene Moore, Margaret Winter, Marion Winter, Patsy Quinn.

Boys 14 years and over: Bob Burch, Bob Broadbent, Bill Percog, George Davis; girls 14 years and over: Marlene Martin, Peggy McDonald, Kathleen Edwards, Dorothy Eustace.

Senior boys, four times around the arena: Bob Burch, George Davis, Bill Percog, Bob Broadbent.

The pupils of St. John's school did not compete for any one of the three trophies but took an active part in all the events.

We renewed our acquaintance with The Drama last Thursday night by attending the Festival at Hart House where we saw the Newmarket Dramatic Club's presentation of Dark Lady of the Sonnets, a Toronto group's presentation of Rope, and Maxwell Wray's presentation of Maxwell Wray in Anger.

Mr. Wray was the adjudicator and when he was giving his judgment on the two productions at the end of the evening, he was annoyed by the silly remarks of a lady in the audience. Apparently never one to let such occasions go unrewarded, Mr. Wray exploded in a burst of wrath and quit the stage with what was undoubtedly the best curtain speech of the evening.

Mr. Wray, an English actor and director of some 30 years experience, has had a somewhat stormy visit to Canada. While adjudicating a play in Montreal, his remarks were objected to by one of the participants and in the resulting scene, Mr. Wray was thoroughly booed.

This is not the thing to do. The adjudicator however pleasant or unpleasant, should be permitted to complete the job he is there for. That was the attitude of the audience on Thursday night after he had left the stage. However, we can't help feeling that Mr. Wray invited the situation, then to put it to his own very good use.

One of the back row of the Lions Minstrel Show chorus had stardom in his grasp but he muffed his big chance. Grant Dillane could have had a solo part but when his cue came, he was so nervous he was unable to come through. His fellow back row choristers were greatly disappointed in Grant because his success would have been symbolic of the opportunities which await the rest of us who labor so earnestly. His failure has dampened our spirits.

It came about this way. In "Alabama Bound," there is a spot where a train whistle is most appropriate. Grant, remembering his boyhood skill, gave a wonderful imitation of the whistle and stopped the show right there. "Darn good," said Bill Grieg, the conductor. "Best yet," said Alex Eves, director. Grant blushingly admitted this as his fellow choristers crowded around offering him their congratulations.

Alas, all this was premature. Grant became so excited that he missed his cue on a repeat of the number. Patiently, we tried it again. Grant did his best to pucker but such was the state of his nerves that his whistle sounded like the gasp of a cold radiator. "We'll try it once more," said Grieg. "I'll come through," said Grant with a brave smile.

Well, to give him credit, he did try but for all his effort, there was no whistle. Grieg was cold. Eves was colder. "We'll get a mechanical horn for that number," he said.

Grant, we fear, is a broken man. Not often does fate smile on a member of the back row of the chorus. But to have the chance and then to muf it. What a blow!

THE EASTER STORY

Deposition from the Cross

By PETER PAUL REUBENS

Famous Dutch Master

The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the Sabbath day, (for that Sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with Him.

But when they came to Jesus, and saw that He was dead already, they brake not His legs:

But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced His side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

For these things were done, that the Scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of Him shall not be broken.

And again another Scripture saith, They shall look on Him whom they pierced.

—St. John, 19:31-37.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat reports

Catnips By Ginger

I have been approached by a group of worthy housewives in the form of a consumers' union to say something about coffee. Coffee has gone up atrociously in price, you know.

Well may the housewives be concerned about every jump in food commodity prices. But this is a calamity. Coffee, the salvation to the office workers' Monday morning, the fuel of after midnight thinkers, the stuff which with a cigaret at 10 a.m. puts you on your feet again—it's going completely beyond the reach of the working-man. I tell you that the coffee bean is being exploited beyond justification. Coffee is becoming a rich man's luxury. What more can the women's consumer union ask?

It is all very well to say "Well if coffee is going up to a dollar a pound we just won't buy it." The person who says that may be a consumer in the true economic sense of the word, but he is not a true coffee consumer. It is the gallon-a-day type who is being hit and hit hard. We of the coffee drinking variety all know that the security of the home would be lost if the pot were not within easy reach, so to speak. The perculator is the symbol for North American happy home life except where it is supplemented by the more recent dripulator or silex.

If things keep on going as they are, I foresee a repetition of the Chicago twenties with coffee running or even the revision of the Fostickian type of "beaniness" in the form of "coffeasies." I can see a period when coffee will be served in jigger form at 50 cents a shot.

High society will be staging cofftail parties. I see the host serving coffee well mixed with soda water, Manhattan base, maraschino cherries and ice cubes and what have you in various blends. The brash sort of sot will walk up to the table and say, "Make mine a double coffee and soda."

Many may scoff at this concern. But was not the most significant revolution in history caused by a tea tax? The American colonists showed their indignation by dumping a lot of it into Boston harbor. But not until they went through an entire revolution did the Americans get their tea without tax. Yet on thinking it over, I don't now whether they ever again did have their tea without tax in spite of complete independence. Many Americans I have known have their tea without sugar or cream though.

"... the fuel of after midnight thinkers ..."

Speaking on tea, the staple beverage of the British common man was beer until Lipton introduced the tea trade on a vast world market. Then the national beverage became tea as you might have guessed.

But what connection has all this with the price of coffee? Well may you ask, as I asked the garageman Friday when he gave me a bill with 16 parts items plus labor. "What has all this got to do with the broken brake pedal I asked you to repair?"

The Top Six Inches

In Ontario, from January 1 to February 25, 1930, there were 254,061 hogs graded. Of this number 21,946 were sold through Toronto stockyards. The balance was marketed directly. Out of every 100 hogs slaughtered, only nine were offered on the open market.

Before the second world war, our pork products for export were largely handled by jobbers. When the packers had a surplus of pork, it was sold in a job lot. This way of exporting meant that often our bacon arrived in bad condition. When we had contract marketing, our bacon arrived in better condition. While the war was on, our bacon was handled by a Danish selling agency, working for the British government.

Before the war Denmark had agents in England to sell its bacon. As part of our marketing we must have agents in each country to study and supply what the people wish. We must have our bacon classed as perishable goods and transported in refrigeration. Our bacon is classed as cured and does not go by refrigeration.

Who is going to market our export pork? By the past action of the government, it is out. That leaves the packer and the farmer. The packers before the war used the export market only as a dumping outlet. If we farmers want an overseas market for our pork, it is up to us.

We farmers own the pork to start with. All we need to do is hold control. There is no reason why we should sell our stock outright. All the packing plants have either been paid from the profits of our stock or we are paying the interest on capital invested from profits. A member of parliament in the house made a statement that a ten percent per lb. raise in beef to the consumer only meant a one cent raise to the farmer.

Two words from President Truman to the mine owners were enough to end the coal strike: those words were "just compensation." Where should we make a start in our marketing—at the farm or overseas?

We farmers had a taste of orderly marketing while the war was on. Our pork prices did not fluctuate very much. Our grain prices held steady. We could and did plan our production. We did well under controls and we will likely have to impose some controls on ourselves.

At the time of writing there is no policy for marketing—only suggestions. Our first job is to have a selling agency for our live hogs. There are enough farmers in Ontario that see the folly of selling hogs direct and in the offing there is a central selling anyway. Our next step is to hold control of our stock in the packing plants. We think a good approach to the plants would be the words "just compensation".

As we farmers stand now, the public is largely against our demand of $36 a head for pork. We farmers could come out with a system of "just compensation" for all those that handle farm products from producer to consumer, with the farmers holding enough control to see that "just compensation" is enforced.

Many people think the farmers intend to ask support from the government permanently. To be fair to all the farmers should have something to balance up the tariff that industry enjoys. Without the tariff the farmers could produce cheaper. Cheerio.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Our New Canadians

This is one of a series of biographies of New Canadians who have located in the Newmarket district. Fictitious names are used because some of them still have relatives in Europe and fear they will suffer retaliatory measures.

Last time we told in this series how Mary, a native of Stalingrad, lost her parents because they "were too well educated" and in Russia, "too well educated" and thinking citizens are not wanted. Alex lost his parents too. Their crime was that they had too many cows, too many horses, too much land to be acceptable in the communist state.

Father was sent to Siberia, mother imprisoned, and Alex sent to a state orphanage.

Alex was born in a town in the Ukraine about the size of Newmarket. He had just begun his schooling when his parents were seized. At the orphanage, he was allowed to continue his education and after finishing school, he went onto a farm where he worked until 1941 when he was called into the Russian army.

He was on active service for six months, and before his last engagement, was given 52 rounds of ammunition and told that 51 were to be used against the enemy and the final round upon himself. He was not, they told him, to be taken prisoner.

Alex had other ideas and was among the living when his position was overrun by the German advance. Taken prisoner, Alex was sent to Austria where he was kept busy clearing away the ruins left by Allied bombing attacks. He was freed by the British and was employed by them as a civilian worker. While in camp, he read of the opportunity to come to Canada on contract. He was desperately opposed to a return to Russia and Canada seemed to offer him freedom. He chose Canada and arrived here in 1947 under contract to work in the bush.

He fulfilled his contract and went to Toronto where he married an Ukrainian girl who was a naturalized Canadian. He is now employed in the Newmarket district in the building trade.

Alex has never seen a country quite like Canada. Even now, after three years of residence, he finds it difficult to realize that he is not under compulsion to live and work at the direction of the state, or that he is not under constant police watch. Alex wants to work for what he gets and he does not expect the good things of life to come easily and without effort.

The effort he must make is nothing to Alex as long as he can make it in peace and dignity, and not as a slave of the state. Alex is now taking out his citizenship papers.

Letters to the Editor

A lengthy letter on farm policy has been received but it is too long to print in its entirety this week. It will be printed next week.

OUR NEW CANADIANS

The editor: May I be permitted to congratulate you on your series of articles on "Our New Canadians." Your approach was a very logical one and your reasons for the write-ups excellent. I should imagine that many of your readers will not agree.

I feel that I have a fairly good knowledge of the plight of some of the general class of people that were covered in your survey because my duties as a Military Governor after the war brought me into close contact with refugees and D.P.'s.

When I returned from overseas, I went to Ottawa to ask the government to adopt a scheme for bringing in a large number of these homeless people to take up the work of developing this country.

One of our first needs in Canada is more population. The many reasons for this statement are so obvious that everyone should know them. On the other hand, there are many who will argue that our own come first, there is no housing, etc., etc. There was never a healthy growth of any nation without temporary upset and inconvenience. One has only to look at Britain during the industrial revolution.

However, I am getting away from my main purpose which was to say that you are doing a fine job in letting your readers see some of the things these people have had to go through and to show their worthiness and their place in our growing country.

Thank you,
T. M. Ewing,
Newmarket.

FARM PRICES

The Editor: In your issue of March 30 you raise the question "Are permanent farm price supports best for agriculture?" and the writer appreciates the thought and space you have given to this subject which so vitally affects the wage earner as well as the farmer.

What you say with reference to the Brannan plan is obviously true and eventually the law of supply and demand will reassert itself regardless of what the government may do or not do in the interim. The basic principle which so adversely affects the well-being of the human race and which is at the bottom of the whole trouble is, to state it plainly, simply selfishness.

At this very moment millions of people are actually starving and if relief is not immediately forthcoming will die in the next few months. It is not necessary to enlarge upon the lack of the reasonable distribution of food. Here we have too much while in many parts of the world there is not enough to keep body and soul together. The real difficulty is that the so-called Christian nations definitely refuse to obey the commands of Jesus Christ, one of which is to "Do unto others as ye would they should do unto you". The continued refusal to obey His commandments will, before very long, bring catastrophe upon us all. But in the meantime, there is this question of price control.

Let me point out that it was not the farmer who introduced this bone of contention. Our prices were controlled for us during the war. It was the government which set aside the law of supply and demand with the result that we did not receive prices equal to agriculturists in the U.S.A. Incidentally, did we not read recently that the gentleman who was at the head of that control board received $45,000 as salary for just one of his activities in 1949 and that as president of a concern that is admittedly losing money every year?

Perhaps the honorable member for North York will answer a couple of questions: first, what is the government doing to control the price of the oils which are being imported for the manufacture of margarine and which are bidding fair to ruin the great dairy industry of this country? And second, why may we not be allowed to buy shirts at one dollar each when they are available? These are fair questions and we would like an answer.

Many of our manufacturers have been heavily protected for many years so why should not the farmers be protected also?

For the time being we should have floor prices, and good ones too, but the writer realizes that if we are ever to receive what we call a square deal it must be by co-operative effort. Therefore we must "do for ourselves" by taking advantage of the educational services offered by our Co-operative Union of Canada by co-operative buying and selling and by a progressive study of methods used by co-operators who have succeeded in protecting themselves from the greedy spirit which denies the righteousness of equal rights for all.

Our opportunity is now.
Yours truly,
Robert Knights,
Queensville, April 3.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

The editor: "Teaching is known as a poverty profession." Such was the comment of Aurele Chartrand (Lib. Ottawa East) before the Ontario legislature as reported in the daily press of April 3. It could have been a quotation from any paper in the past 50 years but it is all the more appalling that it should be said in the present day.

Mr. Chartrand said he knew of thousands of young men and women who would like to enter the teaching profession. "But," he said, "they cannot bring themselves to enter a profession which brings poverty, humiliation and low standards of living."

That is the awful truth, cruel as it may sound. Ask any teacher his salary per day divided over the whole year and you won't fail to see that his financial level is on a par with a poorly paid day laborer in your community. Worried mother, Newmarket.

Parliament adjourned Wednesday for an Easter recess until Monday, April 17. Splendid progress has been made with the sessional program but there still is a substantial agenda of business which likely will engage the attention of the house until midsummer.

There will be no "Ottawa Letter" for a couple of weeks but during the recess, I look forward to visiting throughout the riding and I hope constituents who wish to discuss any matter with me will feel free to get in touch with me at my office in Richmond Hill.

The budget presented by Mr. Abbott, while not sensational, has proved thought-provoking. Estimating an expenditure of $24 million, the minister held out little hope for smaller budgets, and warned that any increase in social security expenditure would mean higher taxation. Mr. Abbott pointed to the fact that Canada's debt charges (amounting to $423 million) are almost entirely a legacy of past wars. Adding these to the defence estimates and the cost of caring for veterans, he said: "All told then, we must provide something over a billion dollars a year because of past wars or the need for preventing future war."

The budget has been labelled a "stand pat" budget and it is just that as far as changes in our tax structure are concerned. In the absence of striking tax changes, the most interesting parts of Abbott's speech dealt with his forecast of business and employment in Canada for 1950. He said: "my forecast and fiscal program are based on the expectation of sustained high levels of production and employment..." In fact, Mr. Abbott estimated that the "gross national product" (the best index of total national in-

Royal Rug

More than 14,000 people saw Queen Mary's carpet during the two and a half days it was on display here last week. It was afterwards flown to Washington. The richly embroidered rug was greatly admired by these thousands of visitors. Every stitch of the beautiful carpet was the work of Queen Mary and was first started in 1941. It took over 4,000 hours of needlework by the 82-year-old Queen Mother, four stitches a minute, in all over a million stitches. The finished rug has been donated by Queen Mary to aid Britain in her dollar shortage. The only stipulation is that it must hang in some public institution for recognized repute. Already a wealthy New Yorker has offered $500,000 for the royal rug.

Alberta oil has changed his future

The boy doesn't know it yet. Many a grown-up doesn't realize it—but the new oil fields of Alberta brighten Canada's future.

Western oil is saving 100 million scarce U.S. dollars this year, dollars we don't have to pay out for oil imports. This means money to buy other imports we need—things that cannot be grown or made in Canada. Next year Alberta oil should save 145 million U.S. dollars!

Then, too, the search for oil is making a big new market in Alberta for things the rest of Canada has to sell. The oil industry is spending $3 millions a week in the west. Across the nation this money is fostering new industries, expanding plants, creating jobs, paying wages, building homes.

And in the prairies petroleum product prices are lower than they would have been if oil had not been found. Prairie consumers saved more than $30 millions last year. Anything that helps prairie prosperity helps all Canada.

Oil is important to us all. More oil means a higher standard of living.

The search for oil is unending, a costly business, often disappointing. But the job is pressing forward. And new-found oil is changing our future... promising a better, brighter future for Canadians—man and boy alike!

Bringing you oil is a big job
... and a costly one

About Canada's Oil—At the end of 1949 potential oil production in Alberta was more than one-third of Canada's requirements. Three years earlier, Canada produced less than one-tenth of the oil she used.

More than 240 companies and syndicates are searching for or producing oil in western Canada.

It is estimated that the oil industry will account for almost 10 per cent. of all new business capital invested in Canada this year.

In 1949 Imperial Oil bought a total of nearly $40 millions of equipment and supplies from more than 3,000 Canadian firms.

IN MEMORIAM

Brooks — In loving memory of Violet Brooks who passed away March 26, 1945.
Your last parting wish
We would like to have heard,
And breathe in your ear
Our last parting word.
Only those who have lost
Are able to feel
The pain in the heart
At not saying farewell.
Always remembered by Ruth and Ken.

Horne — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Horne, who entered into eternal rest on April 5, 1948.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid.
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, loyal and true.
One in a million, that mother, was you.
Just in your judgment, always right.
Honest and liberal, ever upright,
Loved by your friends and all you knew.
A wonderful mother, that mother, was you.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by son, Charles, daughter-in-law, Mae, and grandchildren, Donna and Elaine.

Munshaw — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Jennie Brown Munshaw, who passed away April 7, 1950.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain.
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never —
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Ever remembered by her husband and family.

Rose — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mary Allison (Elsie) Redditt, wife of Charles H. Rose, who passed away April 4, 1944.
We who loved you sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Lovingly remembered by husband, Helen, Ted, Donald and Ronald.

Rose — In loving memory of a dear mother, Elsie Rose, who passed away April 4, 1944.
Farewell, dear Mother, thy work is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more;
A loving mother, kind and true,
No one on earth we'll find like you.
Always remembered by son, Leslie, Marion, June, Murray and John.

Smith — In loving memory of our darling baby, Wendy Smith, who passed away April 8, 1949.
No stain was on her little heart,
Sin had not entered there;
And innocence slept sweetly on
That pale, white brow, so fair.
She was too pure for this cold earth.
Too beautiful to stay,
And so God's holy angel bore
Our darling one away.
Lovingly remembered by Mummy and Daddy.

It's only A suggestion

By HOWARD MORTON

During our two and one-half years in Newmarket this paper has repeatedly spoken of the necessity of improving business conditions in Newmarket. The editor has written of the need to promote and develop Newmarket businesswise, that we may hold, or improve, our position in the scramble for trade during these adjustment years.

Several suggestions have been given such as improved farmer markets, parking facilities, resumption of Fair Day, etc. May I make my contribution in the form of a simple suggestion?

Coming to Newmarket with 15 years' experience in doing business with rural trade, I believe one of the main things these people want is being overlooked right here in Newmarket.

Most people from farms and outlying communities get up early in the morning and most people who get up in the morning like to go on with the job they have in hand. That job often requires supplies or materials especially in these spring days.

Take a drive down Main St. and through the business section anytime between 7 and 9 a.m. and you will think it must be Sunday. Except for the odd service station and maybe a couple of other establishments it will be after 9 before you may purchase your requirements and get back on the job.

Just a suggestion . . . possibly it could answer the question as to why so much farm trade now finds it easier to do business in other areas.

Here at Morton Bros. your Pontiac-Buick Dealer at 68 Eagle St., we will continue to cater to your trade by being open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. each week day. Incidentally, this is our week to serve you on Sunday.

EASTER CANTATA

On Good Friday evening, April 7, at 8.15, the choir of Aurora United church will present the sacred cantata, "Darkness and Dawn," by F. W. Peace.

There is a very fine musical work, depicting the closing scenes of the life of Christ and emphasizing the victory of the Cross. It opens with an impressive choral number descriptive of the sudden darkness and tumult preceding the crucifixion, and ends on a triumphant note of praise and thanksgiving, following a solo based on the resurrection theme. The whole cantata is full of excellent dramatic efforts, and is well adapted to the Lenten season.

A silver collection will be taken, and everyone is cordially invited.

RADIO LICENSES

Radio licenses were due on April 1. G. B. Wales will be canvassing St. George's ward and part of St. Andrew's ward.

77TH BIRTHDAY

Mr. Ed. Moffatt will observe his 77th birthday on Easter Sunday. Still hale and hearty, Mr. Moffatt is working every day.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the ladies of St. Paul's W.A., the Ladies' Auxiliary, Branch 426, and friends for their kind thoughts and cheerful messages during my stay in Toronto General hospital. Also thanks to Miss Mary Revill, my nurse, and Dr. J. G. Cock. Mrs. Max Fines.

CARD OF THANKS

Rev. A. F. and Mrs. Bamford wish to thank their many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during the period of illness of both of us. We received many cards from the people of our circuit, and others not on this Charge, and also practical help in gifts of money and flowers, as well as letters. Will our many friends please accept this note expressing our gratitude and deep appreciation.

We are glad to report we both are on the highway to, we trust, complete recovery. I came home on Thursday afternoon of March 30, and my wife the day following, accompanied by our daughter, Muriel, who came by plane from India to be with her mother and care for her during her serious operation and convalescence.

We wish also to express our gratitude to Almighty God, our loving Heavenly Father, through Christ Jesus our Lord and Saviour, for prayers answered in that we both are on the highway to good health and strength again. (Rev.) Frank Bamford, Pastor, Sandford-Zephyr-Ashworth United churches.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the kind people who have so generously contributed their time, flowers, words of encouragement and financial aid at the time of my serious accident. It is extremely gratifying to know that one has so many friends. Gladys Harman.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mathewson, Newmarket, wish to announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Elsie Chalmers, to Mr. William Eugene Bell, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bell, Cleveland, Ohio, the wedding to take place in Jos. Nigeria, West Africa, on Wednesday, May 17.

Mr. and Mrs. James Webster announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Edna Yvonne (Beth) to Mr. Kenneth Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, Toronto. The marriage will take place May 6, at 7 o'clock, in Eglinton United church, North Toronto.

Farm Forum News

No reports from any forum this week.

Several forums in Markham township met with the Federation of Agriculture in the Veterans' hall, Unionville, to hear Mr. Ray Hergott speak on the subject of federation of agriculture. His remarks were as follows:

He felt it was sad to hear of so many farmers who did not know that when they had paid their township taxes they had also paid their federation fees, and were therefore a member of the federation.

The township branch of federation is the most important unit, because it gives each and every person a chance to air his views.

We as members have some responsibilities: 1. Physical support — we should read of the activities, think them over, and then attend the next meeting and let our leaders know whether we are satisfied or dissatisfied — we have the best of leaders, but they are not mind-readers.

2. Financial support, the federation had to close down last year for lack of funds.

3. Educational support, learn to pool resources — don't be covering the same ground for every farm organization — cover the ground for federation and then draw from there for our

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

'MY THANKS'

When you are ill and out of circulation

You study things that make for an equation.

Each window frames a moving picture screen
That furnishes an ever-changing scene.

I watch the sunlight swallow up the dawn

And gild the pine and lilacs on the lawn.

I see the bluejays, elegant and gay,

Light near my window, giving voice to say

"Where are the crumbs and wheat, get up, arise,

"Tis time that we are given our supplies!"

A cloud of sparrows, vocal and irate,

Upon the bluejay's pleasure, scolding, wait.

Then down the highway, on their wheels, on foot

The children follow out their daily route.

And then the school bus with its student load

Flies gaily past along the busy road.

I see the same trucks at the self-same hour,

The great oil carriers with their sense of power,

The neighbors' dogs out for a morning stroll:

These make a pattern on my scenic roll.

And round the sunny room where now I lie,

Tokens of loving friends arrest my eye.

The lovely cards, so jolly and so gay,

That give a potent shove along health's way.

The flowers, so colorful, that smile at me and say

"We're messages from friends, get well, we pray!"

The picture of the charming kitten at its game

Reminds me of three friends from whom it came.

Eau de cologne to bathe my weary head

And fruit and dainty dishes before me spread;

While kind friends come and many a kindness do

To help my better half to struggle through!

The phone calls all are taken by a friend

To be repeated at the work day's end,

When home, the other half has come to stay

And tell me all the doings of the day.

Nothing can make of 'flu a gala treat

But when so many kindnesses you meet;

The visitors who cheer your lonely hour,

The dearest one whose strength is like a tower.

All these we learn to value more and more

When brains are fuzzy and when bones are sore.

So for these kindnesses from a full heart

I offer my thanks—though only in poor part!

Ham for Easter meal

Just as turkey is traditional for the Thanksgiving dinner in this country, so ham is becoming the accepted choice of meat around which the Easter dinner is planned. A whole ham, baked and decorated, is a picture of elegance but unfortunately the average family will find it an expensive luxury. They need not, however, forego the enjoyment of ham for the special dinner for there are other cuts which will answer their purpose.

A "picnic" ham, a cottage roll, a half ham or even a slice may be proudly served and enjoyed. A 10 to 12-lb. ham yields 20 to 24 servings. A four to five-lb. "picnic" ham serves eight to ten persons. The "picnic" ham is first cousin to the genuine ham for it comes from the forequarter of the animal, but is cured and prepared similarly to the ham. It weighs several pounds less and because of its size is ideal for the small family. With a good glaze and attractive garnish, the "picnic" ham is every bit as festive as genuine ham for the company meal. Cottage roll, which is the boned, rolled and cured shoulder, is sometimes a good buy. It slices to good advantage as it has no bones to interfere with the carving.

The time allowed for pre-cooking depends on the type of ham purchased. Many processors are now partially cooking or completely cooking some of their meats. If the ham is uncooked it should be simmered in water to cover until tender, allowing 25 to 30 minutes per pound. If it is pre-cooked it is best to read the directions on the wrapper and follow them carefully.

When ham has been simmered or otherwise cooked until tender it may be glazed to improve appearance and add to the flavor. The skin should be removed and the fat surface scored in squares or diamonds then covered with the glaze. A whole clove stuck in each diamond is a nice touch, the ham is then baked at 400 degrees for 15 minutes or until nicely browned.

Suggested Glazes for Ham
Maple syrup, honey, corn syrup or fruit juice. Pour over ham and bake several times during baking.

A mixture of 1 tsp. dry mustard, 1½ tsp. vinegar, 2 tsp. sugar and 1 cup water or stock. Pour over ham and bake several times during the browning period.

A mixture of ½ cup brown sugar, ½ cup dry bread crumbs and 1 tsp. dry mustard spread over the fat surface.

A mixture of ¼ cup brown or white sugar and 2 tsp. flour rubbed into fat surface.

A mixture of ½ cup white sugar and the grated rind of an orange spread over the fat surface.

Honey spread over fat surface, then sprinkled with cinnamon.

A mixture of ½ cup brown sugar, 2 tsp. dry mustard and 1 cup water or stock. Pour over ham and bake several times during browning period.

BAKED HAM SLICE

1 slice uncooked, smoked ham, 1-inch thick (about 1½ lbs.)
2 tsp. dry mustard
½ cup brown sugar
2 tsp. vinegar
1 cup milk or fruit juice

Trim the rind off ham and place in shallow baking dish. Mix mustard, sugar and vinegar together and spread over ham; stick with cloves. Pour milk or fruit juice around meat. Bake, uncovered, in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees, until tender, about 1 hour. Yield: six servings.

HONOR DEPARTING FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bales and children, Gloria and Merlyn, were the guests of honor at a surprise party tendered by the young people's group of the Free Methodist church, Newmarket, and friends. The party was held at the home of the honorees with about 35 present.

The evening of good comradeship featured the playing of games and a sing-song. Each member of the departing family was presented with a gift and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bales and family will reside in London.

Barbara BUYS WHY'S

MONTREAL—Early Spring, with its damp, blustery weather, sometimes gives us aches in the joints that rob us of sleep and make us feel miserable. The most soothing, relief-bringing treatment I know for sore muscles—stiff neck—neuralgia or rheumatism is to pat on SLOAN'S LINIMENT. It works wonderfully quickly to bring welcome relief from pain! Its deep, penetrating heat gets to the root of the evil—makes you feel so much better!

No wonder so many thousands of Canadian mothers agree that Sloan's is a medicine cabinet "must"! And Sloan's is so inexpensive! Just 40¢ a bottle at your favourite drugstore!

Easter Wouldn't Be Easter without rainbow-eggs and chocolate bunnies... but to make this Easter specially memorable—surprise your family with this marvelous Eggnog Sponge Cake. It's made with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR—for tender, feather-light deliciousness.

(2 Eggs)
1 cup sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1 tsp. Calumet Baking Powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. mace
2 eggs, unbeaten
2/3 cup sugar
2 tbsps. shortening
1/2 cup hot milk
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind

Sift flour once, measure, and baking powder, salt and mace. Sift together three times. Beat eggs with rotary egg beater until they are foamy throughout. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly until very thick and light. Add shortening to hot milk and heat until melted; then add to egg mixture, mixing quickly. Add all flour and lemon rind and beat with rotary egg beater only until smooth. Turn into round 8-inch layer pan. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 15 minutes. Cool in pan. Split cake in half. Spread whipped cream or custard filling between halves. Sift powdered sugar over top of cake.

Time For A "Primp-Up" At Home?... Easter reminds us of Spring home repairs—roof and structure needs, new paint jobs, new decoration schemes. You're certainly not such plans in mind, but maybe it isn't easy to lay hands at once on the necessary cash. Well, the BANK OF MONTREAL has special low-cost loans for just this situation. So long as you can repay a loan by monthly instalments without too great strain on the family budget, there's money for your home repairs and improvement at the B of M. Why not arrange with Husband to talk it over with the manager of your nearest branch of "My Bank"? Tonight's the best time.

It's been written for you and your baby by a large staff of HEINZ baby food experts who are in constant touch with doctors, clinicians, researchers and dietitians. Read about breast feeding, bottle feeding, how to care for infants, warming and storing food. There are new charts, too... Weight, Height and Age Table—Progressive Development Chart. I Want To Remind You about that pleasant custom—afternoon tea. I always have it at home when I'm alone, or at a restaurant, after shopping or the movies. Too, on many afternoons friends drop in by invitation. And what a thoroughly enjoyable way it is to relax and enjoy an hour of friendship while sipping tea! And here's a tip—inviting friends to afternoon tea is a splendid way to return a social obligation. Oh yes—another tea tip: Always make sure the tea brews fully five minutes for full enjoyable flavor.

Only The Rich could afford to drink tea in the days of Queen Elizabeth. Tea (as in England) was so high that tea smuggling was a common occurrence. In fact, more than half the tea drunk in England was smuggled into the country. The King's men whipped and hanged the daring smugglers, but they were regarded more as heroes than as criminals by the people, for tea, even then, was a much-sought-after beverage. In those days, it wasn't blended, but was consumed by single varieties and would be almost unrecognizable as tea to us. Today tea blending is an art... well-understood by the Blenders of famous RED ROSE TEA. Yes, you know from the first sip that Red Rose Tea is good. Its famous flavour—its truly satisfying goodness—make it the favourite in thousands of Canadian homes—at tea-time—and all the time! And remember that Red Rose Coffee is as good as Red Rose Tea.

The Next Time You have odds and ends of meat to use up, try this Corn Meal Shortcake. The two-way action of CALUMET BAKING POWDER (first in the mixing bowl, then in the oven) makes the shortcake a dream of deliciousness—as it does with all my baking.

CORN MEAL SHORTCAKE
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup yellow corn meal
1/2 cup milk (about)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup creamed beef, meat, or eggs

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift into bowl. Add corn meal. Cut in shortening. Add milk and stir until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds to shape. Roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with floured 2-inch cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (425°F.) about 15 minutes, until done. Split hot shortcakes and place creamed meat, fish, or eggs between halves and on top. Makes 8 shortcakes.

PEAR AND CHERRY MOLD
1 package Cherry Jell-O
2 cups hot water (or water and syrup from fruit)
1 cup drained canned pitted red cherries
1 cup balls of canned pear

Dissolve Jell-O in hot liquid. Chill until slightly thickened, then fold in fruit. Chill in fancy mold. Unmold and garnish with pear, which has been cut into balls with a ball cutter. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

YOUNG-HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Ben the bully needs help

Ben, the eight-year-old bully, is marked as a bad playmate. In every community there is usually at least one bully who makes freedom in play difficult for other children.

Ben frightens the little children who are inclined to be timid. He swaggers around shouting and punching other children. When another child attempts to defend his rights after Ben has insultingly poked him, the fight that ensues isn't a fair one—because Ben doesn't play fair. Ben resorts to unfair tactics of scratching, kicking and biting and the offended child has no chance to protect himself unless he fights back the same way.

Actually, Ben is a menace to the safety of his associates so he should be ignored when possible until he is adjusted to the point of playing fair. Ben's maladjustment, socially, is a result of a not-so-bright mentality. Other children outshadow him in work and play and he is attempting to compensate for his failure to compete with them by assuming an attitude of superiority. Ben's muscular strength helps him to lord it over the other children.

Ben's parents aren't happy about their boy's unpopularity and wish he were different. However, trying to enter him into the good graces of the neighborhood, they pretend to admire him and take his part—which is a tremendous mistake in a case such as this. Some day Ben will meet his equal in brute strength and then he will have no one to admire him—he will, indeed, be a failure, not only to others, but to himself. There is a great deal that

Ben's parents can do to help him overcome his bullish attitude. They can ask other parents to warn their children not to play with him—unless he plays fairly. They can ask his teachers to keep him away from other children during recess if he annoys them. Then, help Ben to grow in a skill that will give him legitimate prestige among his associates and he won't need to pretend great power among them.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Spring in many localities is heralded by the song of birds and the welcome arrival of dainty flowers, but not so in Newmarket—at least not that it is worth more than the passing mention. The epitome of spring here is the three-letter word—"mud". Private properties, school grounds and those newly opened areas referred to vaguely as the sub-divisions of this thriving metropolis vie with the unsurfaced streets for the title, "Miss Squashy Place of 1950".

Only among the popcorn crowd does one find any enthusiasm for this mud and from their general appearance one could only decide that they have taken to the bog like baby seals to water. Like Milne's Piglet they loath that condition bordering on cleanliness and only discover their ultimate joy when they resemble an Argo full-back after a game on a wet field. Equipped with a pair of rubber boots there are limitless new possibilities to explore before straggling homeward with a damp squish, squish marking each footstep. Making More Mud

Have you watched any of the small fry wallow in the mud, sloshing it with their feet into an oozy mire? The method recommended for the best results is to first, find a spot where the mud is close to ankle deep... an easy task. Then with a tramping motion raise each foot alternately until the mixture is of a chocolate-cake-batter consistency. The delightful part about this game is that it can go on indefinitely and there is always the exciting possibility that one's rubber foot might get stuck or perhaps, even both of them.

Rubber boots are the only equipment necessary for another favorite spring-time sport of the small types—getting one's feet wet. As you are well aware, there are numerous ways in which this may be achieved. But the important thing to remember is that whether it is the building of a dam, the launching of a new schooner, or just general wading, the activity is secondary to the desired results of wet feet.

These pastimes may hold the interest of the youngsters temporarily, but never for an instant do they forget the main object, namely, the wet feet. And, when you really stop to consider the situation, you must give them credit for their perseverance in the face of such distractions. It is not very often that they fail to achieve their aim.

Other Signs
Although mud is the most prominent sign of spring in Newmarket there is other evidence of this season of awakening and new life. The birds have by no means deserted the neighborhood and from the fields comes the "caw, caw" of the crows.

220th York Rangers Annual Meet April 15

Several decades have passed since the last shell was fired in the first Great War, but the fiery cross has again gone out through the county, this time to summon those who are left, to rejoin once again in fellowship and remembrance.

The 14th consecutive annual dinner of the 220th York Rangers Association, C.E.F., will take place at the Royal York hotel (Roof Garden) on Saturday, April 15. It will begin by a reception at 5:30 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m. Departed comrades will be solemnly remembered in an impressive "In Memoriam" ceremony. A splendid program of entertainment will round out the evening.

This year, a special endeavor is being made to muster every available old member of the battalion throughout the whole county. It is no accident that this annual dinner is regarded as one of the best veterans' functions of the whole year. The high comradeship of the boys was long since realized by both the commanding officer, Lieut. Col. B. H. Brown, and the quartermaster, Captain Aubrey Davis of Newmarket, and all have stood together through the years as a shining example of what esprit de corps can do. No member of the 220th ever could say that he did not have a friend in the world.

Capt. Davis of Newmarket, as his contribution towards "keeping the boys together," has generously donated the cost of the banquet for the last 14 years. It is his wish that this year's dinner be the biggest and best yet. His one wish is that every member of the old 220th, wherever he be, come in and join with his old comrades once again.

Any ex-member of the 220th battalion seeing this, who has not already been located, should immediately get in touch with the secretary of the association, James Law, 20 Ranleigh Ave., Toronto, or better still, present himself at the Royal York hotel

ELMHURST BEACH

The celebrant for Easter Communion at St. Paul's will be Rev. Beare of Toronto. The service will be at 3 p.m. for Easter Sunday.

Sorry to report the eucire had to be cancelled last week owing to water in the parish hall. There will be a eucire on April 11 at 8:30 p.m. if the parish hall is dry again by that time.

Mr. Gamble would like to have a few more Boy Scouts in his troop. Their meetings are every Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the parish hall.

The W.A. ladies are busy preparing and working for their bazaar and tea to be held on Mrs. Lockerbie's lawn in July.

Many attended the special ratepayers' meeting in Belhaven hall last Thursday regarding the much needed new school. If something isn't soon done we'll be seeing Jersey school pupils sitting out in the middle of some field having classes.

KETTLEBY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Storey, Snowball, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lepard.

The musical concert by Riverdale United church choir, Toronto, will be sponsored by Kettleby United church choir April 14 at 8:15 p.m. in the church. Silver collection.

Mrs. Gordon McQuarrie is confined to her bed by pneumonia.

The county will be adequately represented by the warden and several of the township reeves.

Mount Albert News

The furniture show to be held in the Mount Albert continuation school will be open to the public Monday, April 10, each afternoon and evening (with the exception of Wednesday afternoon and evening). All are cordially invited to attend.

The firemen held a dance in the hall on Friday night and had a good attendance but net proceeds were only around $17. Still, they say every little bit helps the fund grow. When the ground is dry, the building of the fire hall will be started. Help this worthwhile work. Don't be a knocker.

Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Shapter attended the East Toronto Presbytery rural gathering of ministers and their wives at Unionville on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Doug McIntyre left on Sunday night for his new job in Winnipeg where he will be for some time.

The Women's Institute on Thursday evening last held its annual At Home in the basement of the United church and after partaking of a bountiful supper, the vice president, Mrs. Vera Weller, welcomed the guests in a few well chosen words. Then followed the usual toasts and a sing-song; a reading by Jean Walker; duet by Marlene Rose and Margaret Leek. Dr. and Mrs. Gunton, Aurora, took us on a fine motor trip by story and pictures all through Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and far into the Yukon and Alaska. When one cannot take this themselves it is grand to get it first hand from someone who has been there.

Mr. Morley Davidson, Sandford, has moved into the house on the townline recently purchased from Mr. Lort.

Mrs. Herb Shields has returned home after spending a couple of months in Burlington and Toronto.

Mr. Jim MacDonald has moved into Mr. Orville Marten's house on the farm where he has taken a position.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Toronto, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ross' uncle, Mr. W. H. Theaker.

Mrs. Elsie Crozier was a weekend guest in Toronto at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Draper.

Mrs. Olsson spent a few days this week in Toronto.

The C.G.I.T. girls under their leaders, Mrs. Rolling and Mrs. Crozier, put on a fine concert in the town hall on Tuesday last when two short plays, Seven to One and The Tenth Word, along with solos and duets made an exceedingly interesting evening's program.

A miscellaneous shower for Gertrude Harrison was held last week at the home of Mrs. Gordon Green when the bride-to-be received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson has returned home from Toronto Western hospital and is convalescing at her home.

Service will be held on Good Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the United church and on Easter Sunday at 11 o'clock. Special Easter service and music. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a cantata by the choir, The Conquering Sign, an Easter story.

The Women's Institute will hold a community card party and dance in the town hall on Tuesday, April 11, at 8:15 p.m. The proceeds to go to the York County hospital.

Bears win Spirit crown

Newmarket tops Bradford

The Bears became squirt school league champions last Thursday as minor hockey had its big fling at the arena. Paced by their captain, Ian Dick, who sharpened up on his shooting with a pair of goals, the Bears wiped out the challenge from the Flyers by a 4-0 count. Dave Townsley and Bill Williamson assisted Ian Dick in the victory parade with a goal each.

The other section of the triple header attraction found Newmarket pee-wees gaining a 6-4 win over Bradford but it took a last period four-goal rush to turn the trick. Bradford was leading at the end of the second by a 4-2 count.

NEWS 'N' VIEWS

By GEORGE HASSETT
ERA AND EXPRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Any more hockey games like last Friday and it'll be the town's hockey fans who'll need the spring flowers. Last four games have been overtime. We win two, tie one and lose one. So can't register too many complaints.

Does seem tough—after picking up a goal in the overtime against the Gans, to have them do us one better. A win Friday could have meant a third game and a possibility of a bye into the intermediate A Ontario finals. Spits deserve a big hand. Coach Stan Smith welded a home brew crew into a going concern—home brew except suburban Bill Mabbett and "Swiftly" Todd, the lat-

FLYERS SCORE UPSET TO WIN BANTAM CROWN

Birrell's Fordson Flyers are the Optimists' bantam league champions. They won the Russell Broadbent Trophy with a surprise 4-3 win over the favored Marlboros. The Marlies, paced by the league's leading scorer, Bobbie Forhan, had romped through the season without a loss until the final.

Topping the list of goal-getters with the Flyers was Bill Forhan with a pair. Capt. Bob Broadbent and Charlie "My Boy" McGuire had single tallies to build up the Flyers' total.

Bob Forhan was watched like a hawk and his goal production was held to two. Delwyn Creed scored the third Marlboro counter.

The Optimist club is to be congratulated on its efforts in keeping the bantam league rolling and it goes without saying some fine hockey players are on the way up.

Flyers: Bob Broadbent, Murray Young, Chas. McGuire, Dave Purcell, John Graham, John Galbraith, Barrie Sweeney, Don Thoms, Henry VandenBergh, Bill Saunders, Bill Simmerson.

Marlboros: Bob Forhan, Delwyn Creed, Merlyn Bales, Bob Doyle, Jack Mills, Bruce Fines, Ron Groves, Paul Widdifield, Don Firth, Ron Lilley, Bob Dick.

Referees: Grant Blight, H. A. Jackson.

Spits one up in final For Trolley League

The Spits took Sutton "Greenshirts" 13-3 Monday to open up a one-game advantage in the best three out of five for the Trolley league crown. The Spits passed and skated the Greenshirts dizzy. The Pringle men had their moments but when these moments came along they couldn't get past Joe Tunney.

Every Spitfire got in on the divy either as a marksman or a helper. Fact is, could have stretched a point and given Joe Tunney an assist or if trainer Pete Preston could have got out there with a stick it's almost certain he'd have made the scoring summary. Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston found the spring air just right for his shooting pacing the attack with three goals. Harvey Gibney was back in form with two and other two-goal men were Myles McInnis and "Whitney" Bone. Normie Legge, "Fink" Tunstead, Cliff Gunn and Don Smith sniped for singles. Harry Caradonna, Bill Mabbett and "Swiftly" Todd cut into the plum with assists.

Sutton was only in it in the first four minutes. Ken Davie with Geo. Holborn and Keith Dunn in the set-up role, and "Skip" Taylor all alone blinked the red light. John Learyod, a junior playing a steady game, completed the Greenshirts' scoring with a third period tally.

The game was delayed 45 minutes. Again Sutton appeared without a netminder, Ken Tuppington, Bradford, finally putting on the pads.

Third Game of finals At Newmarket tonight

"Newmarket can't do that again" was the way Ellis Pringle and his Sutton "Greenshirts" put it as they vamoosed for their northern haunts after the severe drubbing they absorbed from our Spits Monday p.m. "We'll be back Thursday for game three of the series and will prove Monday's affair was just a big mistake." So with that promise in mind it's likely to be a hot session as the Spits and Greenshirts go at it again tonight at Perc. Hutchinson's igloo. Game four in the series will be either Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Kingston papers gave our lads big ink when there. Score 7-3 was no indication of the play. Joe Tunney and Parrish of the Gans for their shot-blocking gained star rating. Thanks to Bill Ewing, attending Queen's, have it here before us. About four car loads and bus load made the trip.

Bright ideas. Bring all our North York pros and ex-pros in for a game with the Spits. Let's see Herb Cain, Joint McComb, Bill Thoms, Ellis Pringle, "Dodger" Collings, Don Willson, Hughie Mair, Chuck Nesbitt, Bill Taylor, Johnnie Callanan, the Bangay boys, Nick and Bob, Bill Mitchell and Bill Mundell. They're working on the idea. Want to place any bets on the outcome? "Joint" McComb is back from his American League chores—finished tenth in the league race with 81 points, 32 goals and 49 assists, worked out with both the Spits and Greenshirts Sunday.

Tonight, third game in the Trolley League knock-em-down-and-drag-em-out finals. Series goes three out of five, could go the limit. After threatening gestures from all side—Lions vs. Optimists go at it April 12—big night of fun and games. Don't know what the ladies figure on—that one big game they tossed up deserves a repeat. Happy Easter to you all.

CANADIENS, RANGERS TIE

Canadiens and Rangers used up every minute allotted to them Tuesday night on Tom Kirk night endeavoring to declare a pee-wee school league champion. It was no dice. After ten minutes of sudden-death overtime it was still tied two all. The teams, as soon as arrangements can be made, will settle it if it takes all night.

Bill Cain and Don Bone gave the Canadian supporters their chance to whoop it up, while Bill Forhan and Bud Gillis whipped home the Ranger counters.

Won't jinx Hawks says Ab

One more river to cross before Aurora Black Hawks can relax with O.H.A. junior C championship. As we write, Collingwood and Simcoe are still tied in their round and Wallaceburg awaits the winner. From that it would appear fairly definite that Aurora will not have hockey other than of the exhibition variety until around April 15. You can take it as read that it will be either Collingwood or Simcoe against Aurora, for our scouts inform us that Wallaceburg is not in the same class and added to that has been sitting on the sidelines for over two weeks.

The delay is unfortunate all around as in April weather, it's hard to keep in condition and right now the Hawks are in top form. Fortunately, we don't have to go through the tragedies of other years when the team by reason of no artificial ice was lucky to get practices and the executive and local arena saw the profits fly out the window into the coffers of the bigger centres.

At least the Mitchell clan can get plenty of skating and there's a possibility of exhibition games against St. Michael's College, Barrie, Oshawa and Markham Millionaires. The team came out of the Lindsay series without injury and they'll go into the finals ready for anything. The final series will be tougher by way of opposition than Lindsay, but despite all the reports of strength, remember the Hawks have not been given their due recognition all season.

Just as a reminder of the calibre of hockey played in these parts let's recall that in ten years of actual competition for the junior C championship, the group in which Aurora played has produced eight finalists and four champions. That pretty well speaks for itself. This is the furthest any junior team from either Collingwood or Simcoe has gone, and Wallaceburg with an arena for only two years is a comparative tyro for honors.

The champs were: Aurora '39, Markham '41, Milton '42 and Weston '49. The finalists not winning out were: Aurora '38, Markham '40 and Victoria Square '47. Aurora in 1939 met and defeated Collingwood juniors en route to the championship, but Simcoe or Wallaceburg would be new fields to conquer. We won't call the finals at the risk of jinxing our favorites.

Pro scouts have been following the Aurora vs. Lindsay series with eagle eyes. Present at Aurora at various times have been Reg Hamilton of Chicago Black Hawks, Eddie Shore of all-time N.H.L. fame and chain store

Hawks stop Lindsay Wait now for finals

For the third time in ten years, Aurora junior hockey club has reached the final round of the O.H.A. junior "C" series, and district hockey will be prolonged for at least another two weeks. Striking with the full power of a miniature atom bomb, the Hawks blasted Lindsay Kinsmen juniors 14-7 at Aurora last Thursday and 10-7 at Lindsay on Tuesday to take the best of seven series four games to one.

The Hawks were full value for their win, but Lindsay made it close in both contests for most of the way, only to have the Hawks electrify the fans with the power plays that netted victory. Close to 2,500 hockey enthusiasts saw the final two games, both arenas being well filled. The Hawks were mobbed by their supporters after the final win in Lindsay. It was a rugged series with Lindsay really laying it on in the final two contests and the Aurora kids were lucky to emerge free from injuries.

Last Thursday's game will long be remembered in Aurora, as the Hawks blew a second period 5-2 lead that seemed insurmountable and were overtaken and twice passed by Hank Goldup's charges in regulation time. Twice the Mitchell men came from behind, and in fact they were lucky to gain a tie in view of the blistering Lindsay attack. In the overtime, the boom was really lowered, the Hawks going for seven goals in ten minutes with only one shot on the Aurora goal. Ronnie Simmons performed the hat trick in overtime and emerged as the special toast of the night as his two quickies in 39 seconds sewed up a game which sent the fans home talking to themselves.

With the Lindsay executive breaking their agreement to play the fifth game in Aurora, the O.H.A. ordered the game for Lindsay and with play even-tempered in the first, and close in the second, the Hawks came through with five last period markers that decided the issue once and for all. The Lindsay team gave all they had and it just wasn't enough, as led by Laurie Thoms, who went for three goals and duplicated his masterful series performance, the Hawks soared to the heights. Goalie Paul Maguire was again at top form and his stonewall net-minding left little to be desired.

The Hawks are on the wing and will be mighty hard to stop in the quest for the O.H.A. trophy.

Spits lose to Gans In last 30 seconds

The Spits were nudged out of the O.H.A. intermediate A picture Friday night when with 30 seconds to go in the overtime session, Gananogue scored a 5-4 win. It was a heart-breaker to lose. Spits had pulled in front early in the overtime on Swiftly Todd's shot. The Gans squared it, then plunked the winner with but 30 seconds remaining.

The Gans opened up with a two-goal lead, their first coming after five minutes of action, Tom Tindall doing the trick. Anderson with Fair assisting dunked the second pay-off shot behind Joe Tunney at the 7.15 mark. The Spits had their chances but their scoring punch was on their lunch until 13.54 when Don Smith latched onto the biscuit to hand it to Normie Legge who rifled a 35 footer into the Gans cage.

The Spits had the heat on from the outset in the second, their best period. They piled in on the Gans and after 35 seconds had it tied. Gord Bone let fly a sizzler from well out. Parrish blocked it and biscuit dropped at his feet and Don Smith banged in the rebound. Spits kept on the pressure and might have had three or four goals as Parrish was tested, particularly by the Johnston-Smith-Legge line. Gans got their first shot away at Joe Tunney at 4.20. The pressure eased as Joe Peat was chased for a trip and later Gord Bone, Myles McInnis and "Swiftly" Todd did deluxe penalty killing. Bill Johnston came up with a nifty scoring effort, hooking the puck from around behind the Gans' cage and tipping in between Parrish's skates. That gave the Spits a 3-2 lead that held until the period ended.

Spits held their lead until the 11-minute mark of the third. Tindall took a set-up pass from Harper to deadlock the count. Some loose clearing on the part of Spits defense gave Tindall, a former Hamilton Tiger senior, his chance to whack it in. Both teams had some great chances to go ahead but couldn't connect before regulation time ran out.

Joe Peat was the best man on the ice, halting thrust after thrust from the Gananogue forwards. Don Smith, Normie Legge and Bill Johnston were Stan Smith's No. 1 attack combo, making it hot for the Gans each time out.
